

MARTIN, BROWN, SULLIVAN,
ROADMAN & HARTNETT, LTD.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

LEIGH D. ROADMAN

Extensive Experience in:

- White-Collar Criminal Defense
- SEC Investigations
- Health Care Fraud Defense
- Tax Fraud Defence

Practice Description

Mr. Roadman's practice focuses on the representation of individuals and entities in federal criminal investigations and prosecutions involving the FBI, Postal Inspection Service, SEC, HHS, USDA, FDA and the IRS among other agencies. Mr. Roadman also has extensive experience in representing individuals and entities in related civil administrative and enforcement proceedings and commercial litigation.

Notable Cases and Results

United States v. Smith (represented sales executive of pharmaceutical company charged with violating the Medicare Anti-Kickback laws).

United States v. Herring (represented sales executive of pharmaceutical company charged with violating the Medicare Anti-Kickback laws).

United States v. Polin (represented physician charged with violating the Medicare Anti- Kickback laws).

Cerniglia v. United States (represented corporate officer alleged to be personally liable for non-payment of corporation's employment taxes).

United States v. Schneider (represented commodity trader charged with violations of the Mail and Wire Fraud statutes and Commodity Exchange Act).

United States v. Scheck (represented commodity trader charged with violations of the Mail and Wire Fraud statutes and Commodity Exchange Act).

Bar Admissions

Illinois Bar

General Bar and Trial Bar of the Northern District of Illinois

United States Tax Court

United States Court of Federal Claims

United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh and Eleventh Circuits

Year of Birth

1959

MARTIN, BROWN, SULLIVAN,
ROADMAN & HARTNETT, LTD.
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

LEIGH D. ROADMAN

Law School

DePaul University College of Law, with honors

Law Review

DePaul University Award in Federal Income Taxation and American
Jurisprudence Awards in Civil Procedure and Constitutional Process

Author: "RICO Forfeiture: Can the Adversary Be Removed from the Adversary Process?",
DePaul University Law Review, 1986

Undergraduate School

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Employment History

Price Waterhouse (1981-1983)

Silets and Martin, Ltd. (1986-1992)

Martin, Brown & Sullivan, Ltd. (1992-present)

Bar/Professional Association Involvement

Federal Bar Association

Illinois CPA Society

Community Involvement

Adjunct Professor, Tax Crimes and Penalties,

Chicago Kent College of Law (2009-present)

Adjunct Professor, Federal Civil Tax Procedure, LL.M. Program in Tax Law,

The John Marshall Law School (1991-2000)

Member, Federal Defender Panel for the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois (1991-Present)

Certified Public Accountant (1981)

Contact Mr. Roadman

roadman@mbsrhlaw.com

MARTIN, BROWN, SULLIVAN,
ROADMAN & HARTNETT, LTD.
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

DANIEL T. HARTNETT